

University of Michigan School of Nursing

The School of Nursing seeks outstanding, visionary applicants for the following positions:

Associate Dean for Academic Affairs

- Position Description
- Advertisement w Contact Information

Associate Dean for Research and Scholarship

- Position Description
- Advertisement w Contact Information

Rhetaugh Graves Dumas Endowed Professorship in Nursing Systems

- Position Description
- Advertisement w Contact Information

These positions require faculty who qualify for senior rank.

We are also seeking applicants for specific positions:

Director, Occupational Health Nursing Program

- Position Description
- Advertisement w Contact Information

Pediatric Nurse Practitioner Faculty

- Position Description
- Advertisement w Contact Information

Community Health Nursing Faculty

- Position Description
- Advertisement w Contact Information

Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Faculty

- Position Description
- Advertisement w Contact Information

Geriatric Nursing Practitioner

- Position Description
- Advertisement w Contact Information

In addition, we are seeking doctorally-prepared faculty members for:

[Tenure Track Faculty and
Clinical Track Faculty positions](#)

Applicants for tenure track positions can be beginning or established scholars who are conducting applied or basic research relevant to nursing science. Applicants will be considered for any rank, depending on experience and research productivity but must have demonstrated research productivity or potential for same. Applicants for clinical track positions must engage in practice as a portion of their responsibilities. All positions are full-time.

Diversity is highly valued and applications from members of groups who are underrepresented in nursing are encouraged to apply. The positions will be filled during the 2007-2008 academic year.

The University of Michigan is a world-class research institution and offers a full range of accredited educational programs. Review of applications will occur as they are received and continue until March 15, 2008. Please submit your cover letter and curriculum vitae in paper or electronic form to:

For further information, position descriptions and contact information, please click on Faculty Searches in the website below:

<http://www.nursing.umich.edu/>